This program is being offered a second time due to high demand. The goal of this program is to prepare participants to respond to infectious disease emergencies by understanding, implementing and enforcing isolation and quarantine. This program explains the model legal documents presented in the isolation and quarantine satellite broadcast on March 30, 2004. Attendance at the broadcast is not a pre-requisite to attend this training.

Target Audience

- Town Counsel and City Solicitors
- Local Law Enforcement and State Police
- EMS personnel
- Local Board of Health Members and Staff (Agents and Nurses)
- Mayors, Town Managers, and Elected or Appointed Officials

Program Objectives

- Participants will be able to identify the basic legal information required to implement isolation and quarantine with compliant and noncompliant individuals.
- Participants will be able to identify and utilize resources to help in the process of implementing isolation and quarantine measures.
- Participants will be able to describe the tools and documents they need to enforce isolation and quarantine measures.

Speakers

- Priscilla Fox, Esquire
Attorney with MDPH
- Judy Zeprun Kalman, Senior Counsel
Office of the Attorney General of Massachusetts

CEUs and CMEs will be offered for these trainings.
